

Richard Burbidge adds stylish addition to Tulloch Home's developments

“Richard Burbidge balconies provide that all-important first impression for potential buyers...It was also very important to us that we provide a secure, functional balcony for our customers and we felt confident the Richard Burbidge would deliver on style and performance.”

Andrew MacMaster at Tulloch Homes

As part of Tulloch Home's latest housing development projects, Richard Burbidge's Fusion Outdoor Commercial range and Juliette Balconies have been fitted to create stylish and secure balconies to enhance the outdoor appeal of their properties.

The Bay at North Kessock, Inverness by renowned property developer Tulloch Homes is an exclusive collection of executive detached homes from Tulloch Homes luxury collection. The prominence of this unique location extends to the specification of these distinctive homes, providing a luxurious finish throughout.

The second development, at High Burnside boasts panorama views over the historic natural woodland, with a choice of spacious 3, 4 & 5 bedroom homes built to Tulloch Homes' superior specification.

Richard Burbidge's FUSION Outdoor Commercial range and Juliette Balconies have been installed at Tulloch Home's recent housing developments, opting for striking glass infill panels to reflect light and make the balcony appear more spacious and light. Exuding luxury, FUSION creates a stunning and secure outdoor centrepiece in keeping with the houses' stylish, modern appearance.

For more information on Richard Burbidge please visit:

www.richardburbidge.co.uk

“We are very pleased our FUSION range and Juliette Balconies have been chosen as a stylish addition to the properties. Our off-the-shelf availability makes us ideal for projects such as this, as we're able to supply a quality products, on a quick turnaround at a more competitive price than many bespoke systems.”

Leigh Sperring, Technical Sales Manager

